ITALIANS READY TO MARCH FROM THE SOMALILAND

Plan To Proceed Through The River Valleys And Mountains

TO STRIKE AT RAILWAY

French Airmen Inform Headquarters Strong Forces
Head for Front

ROME, Italy, Oct. 18.—Massed Italian troops today were ready in the far south to march straight up from the Somaliland frontier through the river valleys and mountains, striking at the Addis Ababa railway enroute. News of the forthcoming major push from the south was carried in press dispatches from the front while it was learned in Rome that Premier Mussolini has scored his first victory over League of Nations sanctions with an informal agreement to secure supplies of coal from Germany.

French airmen patrolling French Somaliland border, informed headquarters strong forces of Abyssinian cavalry were heading for the Italian front and Mt. Musso Ali region. Other columns were observed on the Eritrean frontier proceeding south with the intention of cutting Italian communications in the Mt. Mussa Ali and Assah sectors.

Italian arrangements to buy coal and other commodities banned in prospective League of Nations sanctions, will be partially on a barter basis, it was understood. With Austria refusing to participate in League action against Italy, a clear route for coal from Germany is believed available.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 18.—Emperor Haile Selassie today ordered 100,000 men massed on the Ethiopian southern front for an advance into Italian Somaliland, according to an Exchange Telegraph from Addis Ababa.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 18.—An Italian column today was cut off by Ethiopian warriors south of French Somaliland, but succeeded in regaining Eritrea after sharp fighting, according to a Reuters dispatch. Counting upon reaching Owash river where they intended to establish a base, the Italians marched on and were almost immediately confronted by a strong Ethiopian force. They failed to reach their objective and were forced to fight their way back to Italian territory.

LONDON, England, Oct. 18.—Italian bombing planes today penetrated far into the interior of Ethiopia according to dispatches here, dropping bombs, but inflicting no casualties.

PARIS, France, Oct. 18.—The newspaper Intransigent, under a Berlin date, today reported General De Bono, Italian high commissioner in Eritrea had resigned his position as head of the Italian military forces on the northern Ethiopian front. The reported resignation was said to have been due to a disagreement with Premier Benito Mussolini who was said to be angry at the "slow Italian advance."

"None So Blind as Those That Will Not See"

(New York American, October 8, 1935)

The New Deal having spent—largely mis-spent—$14,480,875,250 in two years, and having announced its intention to spend still more lavishly ($7,752,332,000) during the current fiscal year, it is hardly astonishing that organized labor leaders demanded that their followers be paid union wage rates on "made" work.

Nor is it astonishing, in view of his acrobatic record, that President Roosevelt should have performed a somersault on this question, first refusing, then capitulating.

However, the question whether relief recipients should work 60 hours a month at prevailing wage rates or more hours a month at lower wage rates for an equal total on "made" work is not vitally important.

In either case, the workers themselves are actually NO BETTER OFF, and the taxpayers are QUITE AS BADLY OFF.

The vitally important thing to labor is A HIGH AND CONSTANTLY MOUNTING WAGE SCALE ESTABLISHED BY REGULAR SUPERABUNDANCE OF WORK AND NATURAL COMPETITION FOR LABOR.

The way to give labor a high standard of wages is to STIMULATE INDUSTRY and secure PERMANENTLY high wages through INCREASING DEMAND FOR LABOR.

Industry must be permitted and aided to accumulate the high income by means of which high wages can be paid and will be paid.

EVERYTHING WHICH INTERFERES WITH THE REVENUE OF BUSINESS INTERFERES WITH GENERAL EMPLOYMENT AND HIGH WAGES.

High taxes interfere with high wages, ruthless and useless squandering of public moneys compels high taxes, and restricts industry and employment.

So long as the Government burdens industry, represses industry, vindictively persecutes industry, or unduly competes with industry, labor will find that industry is hampered and handicapped, and positively prevented from giving labor the general employment at high wages which was freely and universally extended to labor in good times.

GIVE BUSINESS THE INCOME TO PAY GOOD WAGES AND IT WILL PAY THEM.

Deprive industry of that income, AND IT CANNOT POSSIBLY PAY THEM.

The proposition is so simple, and so well proven by experience, that even the sleep-walkers of the Administration ought to be able to see it.

Labor leaders worthy of the name can surely see it, and every effort of labor should now be concentrated on the revival of industry, ON WHICH THEIR WORK AND THEIR WAGES MUST DEPEND.

NEW INDUSTRY is what will save the country, not the exploded New Deal.

If the day-dreamers at Washington did not wilfully choose to be blind, even they—THOUGH THEY NEVER IN THEIR LIVES ROSE TO THE RESPONSIBILITY OF FILLING A PAY ENVELOPE—could not fail to realize these lucid truths.

LANDRETH BALL NINE ENJOYS FINE BANQUET

Celebrate Closing of Their First Season On The Diamond

SPAULDING IS SPEAKER

Members of the D. Landreth Seed Company baseball team were honored at a banquet held last night at Jones' Restaurant, Newportville Road. Places were set for over 50 players, officials, and guests of the company.

Dick Spaulding, a member of the coaching staff of the Phillies, in the National League was the principal speaker. Spaulding urged the players to keep playing hard at all times, because of the fact that baseball scouts are travelling through small towns looking for baseball material.

The baseball leagues of today are greatly in need of young talent, according to Spaulding and what the managers are looking for is speed and hustling. Spaulding cited many interesting and humorous incidents, which happen in the life of a major-league ball-player.

Find Cow Bleeding To Death In Pasture At Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Oct. 18.—A valuable cow was found bleeding to death as the result of being shot in one of the pasture fields of Joseph P. Canby & Sons, Hulmeville, early Wednesday morning. The cow died within a short time after being discovered.

The cow, one of Mr. Canby's good milk producing cows, was turned out into the field Tuesday night at 5.30 along with a herd of 25 others. Wednesday morning when the cows were driven to the barn for milking, one cow was found missing and a search started. The animal was found lying in a pool of blood, dying.

The shot which had gone through the flank made a hole about the size of a quarter. The wound was not torn but just a clean hole through the flank.

Investigation has failed to disclose whether the animal was shot by a hunter or whether the bullet had come from a high powered rifle at a distance.

HEALTHY CHILD HAS GOOD FORGETTERY

Forgetting Is As Important As Memory In Education

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

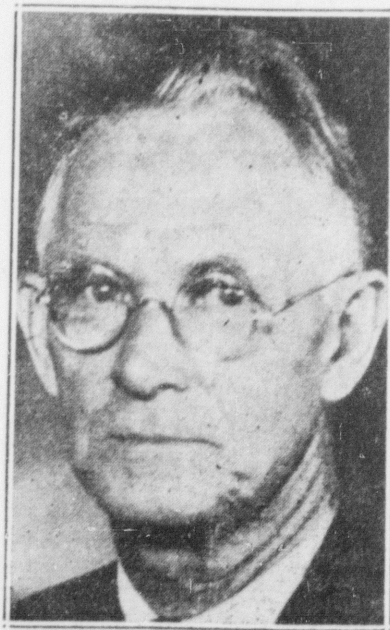

LANGHORNE, Oct. 18.—That the healthy child has a good forgettery is the conclusion to be drawn from one of the papers read before nationally-known leaders in the fields of psychology, psychiatry, pediatrics, neurology, education, mental hygiene, and other sciences related to child welfare who gathered at The Woods Schools at Langhorne. The occasion was the second Institute in the Exceptional Child, under the auspices of the Child Research Clinic, devoted to a consideration of "The Contribution of the Sciences," under the headings, "The Child as an Individual" and "The Child as a Member of Society."

Dr. Ira S. Wile, of New York, expressed the view that forgetting is as important a factor in education as memory. He characterized forgetting as a process of storing away. Through forgetting, the child removes certain impressions to make way for others. These impressions may be retained and brought back to awareness when they are needed. Forgetting is thus an essential force in the educational growth of the child.

The morning session, presided over by Dr. Edward Liss, consulting psychiatrist to Durlach School, New York, N. Y., Windward School, White Plains, N. Y., Hessian Hills School, Croton-Hudson, N. Y., lecturer at New School for Social Research, New York, N. Y., was devoted to the subject of "The Child as an Individual." Speakers were: Dr. Harriet Babcock, psychologist in the vocational Advice Bureau, New York, N. Y., "The Mental Functioning of Exceptional Children;" Dr. Winthrop Morgan Phelps, professor of orthopaedic surgery, Yale University School of Medicine, New Haven, Conn., "The Therapeutic Significance of the Mechanical Analysis of Motor Handicaps;" and Dr. Ira S. Wile, associate in pediatrics, Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, N. Y., "The Role of the Forgettery in Education."

Dr. Lloyd N. Yepsen, Division of Classification and Education, Department Institutions and Agencies, Trenton, N. J., presided at the afternoon session devoted to the subject "The Child as a Member of Society." Speakers at this session were: Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw, psychologist and assistant director, the Normal Child Development Clinic, Babies Hospital, New York, N. Y., "Modification of Infant Behavior;" Dr. Lauretta Bender, senior psychiatrist in charge of the Children's Ward, Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital, New York, N. Feel Geneva's Lash

Geneva, Oct. 18.—Austria, Hungary and Albania, who stayed with Italy against the League of Nations sanctions, today felt Geneva's lash as the League acted to apply secondary sanctions against them. The economic sanctions sub-committee approved a plan to frustrate re-shipment of goods to Italy through the three "deserted" nations. The sub-committee laid before the Sanctions Council a proposal that Austria, Hungary and Albania henceforth be allowed to import quantities equal to their average imports for the last three years. While Belgium, Soviet-Russia and the Balkans and Little Entente nations rushed to join Great Britain today in approving financial and economic sanctions, France won another tactical victory in delaying approval on the banning of Italian exports until October 29. This automatically extends until that date the ten day notice to Premier Mussolini to choose between conciliation and the French stand in strong support of anti-Italian action.

British Alarmed

London, England, Oct. 18.—The British government is frankly alarmed at the spectre of war with Italy and is taking steps to cool the flame of international animosity. In an effort to ameliorate the growing Anglo-Italian tension, it was denied the British defense activities in the Mediterranean had a provocative significance. A special meeting of the British ministers was called for tonight to debate the crisis.

JURY AWARDS VERDICT TO BRISTOL RESIDENT

Antonio Parrella Wins in Suit
With A Finance
Company

OTHER COURT CASES

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 18.—Concluding a three day trial, a jury on Wednesday awarded a verdict in favor of defendant, Antonio Parrella, of Bristol, who was being sued by the American Auto Finance Company, Inc., 161 North 15th street, Philadelphia, in connection with judgment note transactions.

In the case of Trenton City Rescue Mission, against Warren S. Custer, a verdict for $49.85 in favor of plaintiff was directed by Judge Hiram H. Keller, the case having been tried without a jury.

Continuance of the case of The R. C. Maxwell Company, a corporation, against Benjamin Foster Company, a corporation, was announced this morning.

It was also announced that the case of Penna. Finance Company against Ralph E. Snellson and Oliver M. Snellson has been settled.

Because of a number of settlements and some necessary continuances, the trial list has been practically completed for the term. Twenty jurors were drawn and directed to report Monday morning when the case will be called for trial. Other jurors, not serving, were excused for the term. Judge Keller briefly charged a jury in the case of C. E. Benfield, Perkasie miller, against Harvey C. Cope, a nearby farmer, who was sued for an alleged feed bill. The jury received the case for deliberation.

Both sides closed in the case of Lawrence Terry, Trevoese baseball player, who is claiming damages amounting to $5,265 from Pete Tursi, of Philadelphia, now on trial in civil court, here, before Judge Calvin S. Boyer, on Wednesday afternoon.

COMMISSIONERS TO ASK LOCAL LABOR ON SILVER LAKE PROJECT

Decide To Write This Provision Into All W. P. A.
Projects Hereafter

IMPROVEMENT OF LAKE

Plans Have About Been Completed and Approval is Expected

In order to prevent the WPA authorities from importing Philadelphia labor into Bucks County, such as has been done for the past week, and thus depriving Bucks Countians from employment, the Bucks County Commissioners have decided to hereafter specify in all applications for WPA projects, that only local labor be employed. Unless the WPA agrees to employ Bucks County labor on WPA projects into which Bucks County money is going, the Commissioners will not agree to furnish materials and tools for such projects.

This definite decision has been arrived at by the Commissioners and in the application which is to be filed for the improvement of Silver Lake, here, this requirement will be incorporated.

This week the County Commissioners made application to WPA for a project to remove the stone piers in the Neshaminy Creek at Croydon. It is proposed by the commissioners to use these stones in the building of the proposed dam for Silver Lake. The piers were those which carried the old highway bridge over the Neshaminy Creek at Croydon. This bridge was replaced by the concrete arch bridge when route 13 was relocated between the P. R. R. station at Croydon and Bridgewater.

It is planned by the commissioners to haul the stone salvaged from the piers to Silver Lake which project the county commissioners are sponsoring, to convert into a fishermen's paradise.

"Fishermen and sportsmen in general some time ago started a movement to transform a mosquito breeding, stagnant lake into a clean, recreational and healthy body of water," George P. Bailey, told the Courier today.

"Silver Lake, also known as the Mill Pond, a 4,500 foot long weed-choked expanse of water, bounded on one side by Bristol Borough and on the other side by Bristol Township is soon to be transformed and it now looks as if the hopes of the sportsmen of this vicinity are soon to be turned into reality," George P. Bailey, one of the interested sportsmen, told a Courier reporter today.

"The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, owner of the lake, is willing to deed the property to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission and the said commission is willing to accept the property and maintain it," continued Mr. Bailey.

"The State Fish Commission sent its representative, C. Joel Young, to make a survey of the lake. Mr. Young claims that by cleaning the grass and silt from the pond and erecting a new dam to raise the water level, a good clean lake will result which will be a credit to the community. The State Fish Commission will take title to the property, if these recommendations of Mr. Young are fulfilled.

"The Department of Forests and Waters has promised to give authority for the erection of the suitable dam."

"The County Commissioners have promised to furnish the material and tools necessary to erect a new dam provided the labor is furnished by some other body."

"The PWA has promised to furnish the labor to clean out the lake and build the dam," continued Mr. Bailey. Then continuing Mr. Bailey stated:

"The State Highway Department has promised to enlarge the bridge at Bath Road to carry off any excess water which might flow over the dam."

"All that remains to be done is for the county commissioners to present formal application, plans and specifications to Harrisburg and the project will get under way. Mr. John S. Roberts, Jr., a county commissioner, who has been giving much of his time and efforts toward completion of a thorough survey of the property, has promised to make application for the project and present plans and specifications to the proper authorities within a few days. So thanks to Mr. Roberts and all those concerned in the movement, it looks as if Bristol will get something to be well proud of," concluded Mr. Bailey.

A Courier reporter visited Mr. Roberts' office, after interviewing Mr. Bailey and there found the office staff completing the plans and specifications for the improvement of Silver Lake.

These plans show a dam of the spillway type with a 165 feet crest. Draftsman's figures show there are 600 cubic yards of masonry in the dam and that the length of the lake formed by the waters impounded by the new dam, will be one mile and cover approximately 50 acres. The dam is calculated to carry about 5000 cubic feet of water per second in extreme floods.

The entire lake bottom is to be dug out and cleaned of silt and that which is dug from the bottom of the lake will be thrown up around the sides to form a bank.

BICYCLE TRAINS

The Boston & Maine Railroad, which for several winters has run snow trains out of Boston to the New England ski hills, is now putting on a "bicycle" train. This train, with a baggage coach full of bicycles to rent, carries passengers into the country, where they can mount the machines and ride around at leisure to enjoy the autumn foliage.

The venture, conceived by a railroad that is looking about alertly for fields of service not yet invaded by the bus, ought to be a profitable one, for it certainly offers something that customers will keenly appreciate.

City people, young and old, long for a glimpse of forests in their autumn glory, and for a whiff of country air, and for healthy exercise under October skies. In no way can these pleasures be realized better than by pedaling a bicycle along rural lanes. But how to cover the long leg of the journey between the city and the chosen pastoral scenes is a formidable problem. The bicycle train, which puts the cyclist down where, unwearied, he can commence his sight-seeing at once, neatly solves this problem, and for the first time makes country cycling really practicable.

So much for the joys of the cyclist. And urban people who do not bicycle should perhaps derive an even greater benefit from the enterprise. If it induces cyclists to abandon city sidewalks and parks where their presence turns both pedestrians and motorists gray before their time, and satisfy their pedaling list in the great open spaces, we can heartily cry, "More power to it!"

Bad people are those whose badness isn't like ours.

Another excellent beauty aid for the younger set is about four hours more sleep.

If only those who hate war would also hate the kind of fool talk that encourages it.

Everybody hates the privileged class except those who still have hopes of joining it.

Blessed are the humble in spirit. They don't feel insulted when you answer on a postcard.

Another thing the housewife would like to have explained is how life can be made more abundant by rising prices.
